Police Chase (Puff Puff) AWOL Marine

Uncle Sam's Marines are in fine physical shape.

Take it from several Lower Bucks police officers who found out the hard way yesterday afternoon.

It all started shortly after 4 p.m. when a youth, driving a car with South Carolina license plates, got on the Pennsylvania Turnpike at the Delaware Valley interchange off Route 13.

After receiving his turnpike ticket, he continued on the Northeast Extension before realizing he was lost. The youth then made a U-turn and went back to the Delaware Valley interchange to get off the turnpike.

However, Joseph Plunkett, toll collector, told him he'd have to pay $3.75 — the toll for the length of the turnpike from here the Ohio line.

When the youth said he didn't have any money, Plunkett asked for his driver's license. To this the youth said "I don't have it."

Plunkett then told the youth he would have to call the state police. While the toll collector was phoning the Plymouth Meeting barracks, the youth jumped out of his car, leaped over a fence and proceeded on foot down an embankment toward Route 13.

This is where the fun began as Trooper Norton Greening of the Plymouth Meeting station radioed for help from Bristol Township police and the state police barracks at Trevose.

Motorists Were Aghast

Motorists on busy Route 13 were aghast as they saw blue, red and gray-colored police cars speeding and stopping at various points along the highway. But each time the police officers thought they had their man he eluded them.

As the elusive youth, who displayed peak physical fitness as he ran through high grass, wooded areas and across roads, continued toward Levittown, Tullytown Borough police were summoned to the chase.

The fleet-footed youth was stopped in the Levittown Shopping Center by Tullytown Patrolman John Steen, but only momentarily. He escaped Steen's clutches and took up his footwork on Route 13 toward the Courier-Times building.

Radioed Ahead

Steen then radioed for Chief John B. Walterick to join in the pursuit the youth who was wearing combat boots. Walterick met up with Steen on the railroad bridge leading to Tullytown.

After spotting their quarry in the vicinity of Picone Brothers Blocks and Bricks, Inc., on Oxford Ave., Tullytown the Bristol Township police began to narrow the search.

Township police, led by Lt. Richard Templeton, scoured a field in the rear of Picone's while Walterick went along the railroad tracks.

Spotting him again, Walterick

N.Y. Papers Wait Vote On Sunday

NEW YORK (UPI) — Newspaper truck drivers came to terms today on a new contract with publishers of New York City's shut down newspapers.

The newspaper and mail deliverers union hailed the pact as "one of the best agreements we've ever reached." They moved to the sidelines with three other unions which have settled their disputes with management in line with terms proposed by Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

Return To Bargaining

Three other unions went back to the bargaining tables today. Negotiators hoped to wind up their chores by Sunday in time for what could be the grand finale of the 15-week-old blackout—the Madison Square Garden meeting of striking printers, who will vote a second time on the contract they rejected last week.

Good Evening!

Mr. Kennedy certain he'll get his proposed tax cut.

His idea is right and no question that a substantial reduction would be what the doctor ordered for the nation's sluggish economy.

But we doubt that Congress will fill the prescription unless there's some pretty dramatic evidence that the administration will embark on a sensible economy program. That evidence we haven't had.

Well, like S. O. (pinch-hitter) said yesterday, spring is sprung.

Coolish today, fair and warmer for the weekend and chances are the daffodils will be blooming before the Easter lilies.

Speaking of spring, we're chuckling a bit smugly. It's the first time in years we got there two days ahead of the tra-la-la season and it was easy. Navy mission to Pensacola and the beautiful white sands (and Waves, too) of the Gulf Coast with mercury steady at 84.

But we're still a bit disturbed that Pensacola's Vice Admiral Lee and Willow Grove's Captain Waldman gave us an icy stare when we talked about enlisting.

Anyhow, we're happy that the Phils are winning again. You see where they outslugged the Dodgers 8-7 yesterday?

In another month we'll better know.

Woman Held On Murder Charge

Police Seek Another Motive For Shooting

By PAUL ALTAIRE
Courier-Times Staff Writer

Bensalem police, state police of Trevose and Bucks County detectives are continuing their investigation into the bizarre slaying of a Philadelphia real estate salesman during a tryst with a divorcee at the Lincoln Motel, Route 1, Trevose, early yesterday morning.

The salesman, Jerry F. Veneziale, 37, was discovered lying across a bed in Unit 3 of the motel with five bullet wounds in his head, shoulders and neck. His body, lying in a pool of blood, was unclothed.

Held Without Bail

Held without bail on an open murder charge is Kathleen Hutchison, 27, also of Philadelphia, with whom Veneziale had registered as man and wife in the motel about 1:30 a.m. yesterday. That was about 2½ hours before Miss Hutchison allegedly pulled the trigger of a .38 calibre special Colt revolver which snuffed out her boy friend's life.

Miss Hutchison, whose married name had been Matuszewski, stuck to her story that Veneziale's disparaging remarks about her father had prompted the slaying. But police were checking further into the background of the couple to determine if there was another motive for the tragedy.

Among the loose ends which police today are trying to tie up is a doctor's bill to Miss Hutchison dated last year for the delivery of a child. The bill was in the same purse which carried the service revolver belonging to her father, James Hutchison, a retired Philadelphia policeman.

Miss Hutchison, who was committed yesterday to Bucks County Prison to await a hearing, told police she had brought the gun along to her meeting with Veneziale because Veneziale had asked to borrow it "for protection against somebody who had been threatening him."

The Hutchison woman told police that she was the mother of a three-year-old daughter, Pam-

Twp. Police Force Called To Meeting

Bristol Township's entire police force was summoned to a special departmental meeting this afternoon by Chief John R. Stewart.

Purpose of the meeting with the 39 officers in the Croydon School was believed to be in regards to recent complaints of "irregular conduct" by certain police officers.

Commissioners Harry W. Fawkes and Leonard B. Sokolove also attended the meeting at which they were to inform the policemen that the township is setting up a code of ethics and changing rules of conduct within the department.

A complaint had been made to Township Manager Vincent H. Hartley by a group of clergymen, who in turn were referred to Chief Stewart. Later, Fawkes and Sokolove, president and vice president of the board of commissioners, met with the clergymen.

Sokolove said the complaints were "personal matters." He said that the board has "no proof or no concrete evidence" at the present time to warrant disciplinary action.

Fawkes said "we expect them to toe the line. We're going to tell them they'll have a choice to make."

The alleged misconduct is reported to have taken place during duty hours.

The clergymen are also holding a meeting today to further discuss the situation within the police department.

Bali Volcano Toll Mounts

JAKARTA, Indonesia (UPI) — More than 1,100 persons were officially estimated to have been killed in Sunday's eruption of Bali's sacred Guning Agung volcano but the actual toll is believed much higher, it was reported today.

Bozidar Pahor, of the Yugoslav newspaper Delo, who arrived in Singapore after visiting the disaster scene on Bali, said many regions around the volcanic mountain still are cut off by a blanket of hot ashes and lava and it is impossible to obtain an accurate count of casualties.

Pahor said it is estimated that there are at least 75,000 persons homeless as a result of the eruption of the sacred volcano, on whose slopes sits the centuries-old Besakih Hindu temple.

At least 1,500 persons were reported injured, and more than 1,000 homes destroyed.

Seventy-six survivors have been hospitalized with burns from the scorching ash and injuries inflicted by falling rocks.

Nancy Anne Fleming, Miss America of 1961, and her husband, William Johnson, Okemos, Mich., could still smile as they left the Michigan State University chapel after their wedding in East Lansing yesterday. The whole affair wasn't fun, however, as Nancy Anne argued with newsmen and photographers about coverage of the ceremonies. No newsmen were allowed in the wedding and Nancy Anne, an MSU junior from Montague, Mich., turned her back when they tried to picture her cutting her wedding cake afterwards. Trio Nabbed Trying To Scale Wall

Three inmates at the Bucks County Prison in Doylestown were caught by prison guards Wednesday afternoon as they were attempting to scale the prison wall, it was learned today.

The three, Robert Foxhill, 19, 2621 Windsor Drive; Walter Sherwood, 21, 29 Crafton Drive, both of Nottingham and Robert Donecker, 19, Cherry Hill, N.J., were trying to go over the wall with the aid of a sash cord at 2:45 p.m.

Donecker and Foxhill three weeks ago were convicted by a Bucks County Criminal jury of armed robbery and burglary and larceny in Bensalem Township. They are awaiting sentencing.

Sherwood was indicated by the Bucks February Grand Jury on charges of burglarizing a dwelling in Middletown Township with three other men.

Major John D. Case, prison warden, said the three denied that they were trying to escape. They were formally charged with attempted prison breach before Justice of the Peace Clayton Lewis of Doylestown.

Major Case said "the men were very fortunate in being caught before trying to scale the 18-foot wall." He said a high voltage wire encircled the prison wall.

Yesterday an inmate was beaten by Walter Doneker, 23, brother of Robert Doneker. The warden did not give the name of the inmate but said he did not receive any serious injuries.

Major Case said apparently Walter thought that the inmate was responsible for his brother and the two others being caught. The warden said he felt the man was not involved. He said, however, he is continuing an investigation into the incident.

Kennedy: 'Wait And See' On Troops

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy took a wait-and-see attitude today on Soviet troop withdrawals from Cuba even though there were indications Russia might be preparing to pull out more forces.

The President told his news conference Thursday night that the Russians were estimated to have withdrawn "approximately 3,000 troops in these past weeks."

"We are waiting to see whether more will be withdrawn, as we would hope they would be," he added.

Other sources in Washington cited reports that one or more Soviet ships might be getting ready to remove additional Russians from the island.

There remained a big question in U.S. intelligence circles whether the Soviet personnel who have left Cuba were combat forces or merely military technicians.

It was learned that so far the Kennedy administration has not seen equipment leaving the island which would indicate that the recent departures included combat forces — at least not many.

Aerial photographs of persons which would indicate that the recent departures included combat forces — at least not many.

Aerial photographs of persons leaving on ships does not indicate the nature of the personnel. This must be learned from intelligence inside Cuba and from watching the kinds of equipment moved out.

The absence of shipments of combat-unit equipment was not regarded as conclusive, however.

The Kremlin promised on Feb. 19 to remove "several thousand" of its military forces from Cuba by mid-March.

Kennedy gave the Russians the benefit of the doubt on the timing. He declined to answer specifically when asked whether he thought the Kremlin had "honored" its commitment.

Free Eye Examinations

4th Glaucoma Clinic Planned For April 6

The annual glaucoma clinic organized by Bristol Lions Club and the Bucks County Association for the Blind will be held in Bristol on April 6.

Free eye examinations will be given at the blind association workshop on Bath Road between 2 and 5 p.m. Persons over the age of 40 who have not had a recent eye examination are urged to attend.

The two organizations will also provide free transporation to the workship from Cedar and Mill Sts., Bristol, area during the afternoon.

Glaucoma Explained

Alan J. Vogenberg, a member of the Lions, said that glaucoma is a disease of the eye which comes upon an individual without any prior warning. It can, however, be detected by using a special instrument that measures the pressure on the eye ball, and can be treated.

Assoc. Board Raps Below-Par Rooms

By SCOOP LEWIS
Courier-Times Staff Writer

Bristol Township's School Board came under fire from two sides last night for its plans to use more sub-standard classrooms in order to handle increased enrollment in the township's 11 elementary schools.

The Associate School Board, a watchdog group made up of one representative from each of the township's 15 PTA's, criticized sub-standard classrooms for "creating hardships for both the teachers and the students which can have an adverse effect on the educational results."

"Chasing Teachers"

Joining in the group's sentiments was a mother of two elementary school children who warned the school board that it is "chasing good people and teachers out of the township.

There is one sub-standard classroom being used today in each of six elementary schools. The school administration is asking for eight more sub-standard rooms to handle increased enrollment in the 11 elementary schools next year.

A sub-standard room is one which was not built for classroom purposes, such as a cafeteria, library and all - purpose room.

Assails Board

Mrs. Bernice Newburne, who has two boys in John Fitch School, located on Greenbrook Drive and Field Lane in Levittown, assailed the board for "taking away extra - curricular rooms" from the 609 pupils in the school.

She noted that the cafeteria, which is also used as the school library, has a sub-standard classroom which was set up last Sep-

For Salk Vs. Sabin Polio Vaccines

2 Levittowns May Become Test Cities

By AL CHESTER
Courier-Times Staff Writer

The two Levittowns — in Penn-Pennsylvania and New Jersey — may become test areas to determine the superiority of one type of polio vaccine over the other.

This was revealed today by Dr. Martin Goldfield of Levittown, N. J., chairman of the public health committee of the Burlington County Medical Association.

The communities are ideal for such a test, Dr. Goldfield said, because the people in the Pennsylvania community are immunized almost exclusively by the Salk inoculations, while their counterparts across the river receive the Sabin oral vaccine.

Period Of Years

The tests will be conducted over a period of several years by monitoring the sewage systems of both communities for polio virus and then comparing them.

Sewage of Levittown, N.J. has been under scrutiny for the last eight months. The health committee hopes to get the necessary clearance to begin its studies of Levittown, Bucks County, this summer.

What Dr. Goldfield hopes to prove by the tests is that, over a period of years, polio virus will be wiped out or greatly reduced in the Sabin community, while the Salk community will be as much infested with polio virus as before.

Both Immunize

According to Dr. Goldfield, both vaccines immunize, but the Sabin kills the virus while the Salk enables a person to fight off the virus, but does not destroy it.

According to Dr. Goldfield, a person who receives a Salk inoculation can still contract the disease, and pass it on to others,

Priest Tells 30 Pupils They Must Quit Going Steady

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (UPI) — The Rev. James Carey, who outlawed steady dating at St. Michael's High School last month, told the assembled student body yesterday 30 of them faced expulsion if they did not heed the ban by Monday.

"You know who you are," Father Carey said. "Unless you come to see me in the rectory by Monday morning, you better not come to school."

Later, the Roman Catholic priest said most of the 30 students had come to him voluntarily and said they would abide by the ruling.

Father Carey delivered a 45-minute sermon to the 600 students and apologized for the international attention his ban had drawn.

"This is not a reflection on you," he told the students. "It is a manifestation of the deep interest in this subject."

He said he had received about 2,000 letters since the news of his dating ban became publicized in early February.

"Ninety-eight per cent of them are in favor of it," he said, and added he intended to edit the letters and have them put into book form "to let the parents who wrote me speak for themselves."

Father Carey told the students he called the assembly because he had heard there was "misinformed criticism" going about among them.

He said the ban applies only to steady dating between the same two parties to the exclusion of all others.

The former Army chaplain also outlined the reasons why he ordered the ban.

"We see the results all around us in the growing number of teenage unwed mothers," he said. "Can we doubt the cause?"

tember. "This was to have been on a temporary basis," she declared.

Under plans presented by District Superintendent Robert P. Martin, the all-purpose room at John Fitch is to be turned into a sub - standard classroom next September. When told this would also be a temporary move, Mrs. Newburne asked "how temporary? For seven years?"

One In Each

There is one sub-standard classroom in each of the Fitch, Ralph Waldo Emerson, Lafayette, James Buchanan, Thomas Jefferson and Abraham Lincoln Schools.

Plans for the 1963-64 school term call for two more sub - standard rooms in the Lincoln and Lafayette Schools, two to be created in the Maple Shade School and one in each of the Fitch and Clara Barton Schools.

Under a projected plan presented to the school board, Martin has recommended adding 20 rooms for the 1964-65 school term — eight to Lafayette School and 12 to Clara Barton.

Permanent Facilities

Martin said that these additions would provide permanent classroom facilities for the elementary school population for 1964 - 65 through 1967-68. "With such additions," he noted, "it will still be necessary to use sub - standard classrooms in Emerson, Buchanan and Lafayette."

He added that "if additional classrooms were provided instead of using the sub-standard rooms, the newly-constructed classrooms may not be necessary in 1968-69."

The school board last night named the architectural firm of Kramer, Hirsch and Carchidi of Trenton to survey the township's school needs and draft preliminary plans for additions on existing schools.

The Associate School Board specifically attacked the hardships created by the temporary classrooms on both teachers and students such as poor lighting, noise and odors and the elimination of many extra-curricular activities, like music education and closed TV studies.

Non - availability of the all-purpose rooms for their original intented purpose, the advisory group contended, "eliminates a greater part of indoor physical training and is not in accordance with the President's physical fitness program for which this school district was chosen as a pilot area."

The associate board also rapped plans to concentrate construction of new, permanent classrooms at two of the district's 11 elementary schools, urging that the proposed building be distributed over all the schools according to "realistic anticipated growth in each school's population."

In answer to criticism over the lack of kindergardens, Martin said he had recommended two years ago that kindergartens be started. He said he would welcome the help of the associate board in pressuring for initiation of a kindergarten system.

Other Action

In other action last night the township school board:

Approved financial revisions in the resolution to dissolve the Delhaas Jointure (Bristol Township and Tullytown Borough boards) by June 14, 1963;

Set up a committee, headed by school director John J. Pann, to go over the district's insurance program with Robert Quinn, broker of record, and board members Charles J. McGrath, Newton H. Parkes and John R. Stieber. McGrath directed several questions at Quinn last night regarding return premiums and fire rates.

Heard its solicitor, Edwin N. Popkin state that it is his opinion that it would be unconstitutional to allow the Levittown-Fairless Hills Ministerium—an association of Protestant ministers—to use the Woodrow Wilson High School football field for Easter sunrise services. Popkin said such a move would violate constitutions of both the United States and Pennsylvania.

Four Motions

After four motions, voted to recognize and work with the Associate School Board as an advisory group.

Granted Mrs. Mary Lou Beyers, of Levittown, School nurse since 1953, sabbatical leave for the 1963-64 school year at a reimbursement of $3,000.

Approved tenure contracts for Mrs. Josephine McGinty of Levittown, school nurse at Immaculate Conception School, and Mrs. Catherine Stewart of Levittown, school nurse at St. Lukes Lutheran and St. Thomas Schools, since they have completed two years of satisfactory work in the Commonwealth.

Granted professional leave for Henry B. Decker, assistant superintendent in charge of business, to attend the convention of Pennsylvania Association of School Business Officials in Gettysburg on April 25-26.

Drunk Driving Charge Lodged

A Levittown man flunked a test this morning and, as a result, will have to go to court.

Lee Sterling Brown, 41, of 15 Rambler Lane, Red Cedar Hill, Levittown was taken to state police barracks at Trevose and tested for drunkeness. He was taken by Falls Township police after his car collided with a tractor-trailer at 1:10 a.m. on Route 1 near Oxford Valley Road.

After the test, Brown was taken before Justice of the Peace John Melvin and charged with reckless driving and drunken driving. He was released in $500 bail to await court action.

The driver of the truck was James Finefrock, 36, of Mt. Joy, Pa.

Going in Circles

By Albert Mitry

Thomas McCann, 13, of 43 Viburnum Lane, Vermilion Hill, Levittown, and his friend, Steve Egbert, 12, also of Levittown, have something in common with Tom Sawyer.

Tom reports he not only "saw a grave open-up," but that Steve was almost "caught" by the grave's opening.

The story began, the boys say, when they "were looking at the old graves," in the Quaker Falls Meeting Cemetery, Newportville and Tyburn Roads, Saturday.

Suddenly the ground under Steve's feet started to crumble, "Steve turned white," Tom says, but Tom couldn't give us more details because after seeing Steve descend several feet he promptly decided to visit elsewhere.

Louis Leedom, Falls Quaker Meeting property committee chairman, reports the grave will be quickly repaired.

"After attending this event you can't help but feel you've survived some sort of emotional crisis."

These were some of the comments heard from persons in the overflow crowds which attended last weekend's annual gym nite at several Lower Bucks high schools.

At the recent meeting of the Middletown School Board, an irate member of the audience, who claimed to be an accountant, by "profession" challenged the board with "I know accounting is a black art and I would just like to know what criterion you use to determine just what part of your budget will cover certain expenses."

John E. Paul, business administrator of the Neshaminy High School, answered, tersely "The state determines what proportions of our budget will be spent on each expense."

Sewer Worker Dies On Job

A worker on the Upper Southampton sewer system dropped dead in a ditch he was closing yesterday on Temple St. at 3:15 p.m.

Bud Evitts, 43, Llewellyn (Pa.) resident, was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. Gomer T. Williams Jr. Dr. Williams was summoned at the same time the Trevose Heights Rescue Squad was called.

Evitts was an employe of the Frane Construction Company. He had recently brought his wife home from the hospital where she had been recovering from a severe heart attack, it was reported.

He was working on the resurfacing of Temple St. as the Frane crews are preparing for a temporary resurfacing of streets in the Willow-Penn district.

ela, but did not explain the doctor's bill dated last year.

Among the hospitals in Philadelphia which police were checking was Rolling Hill Hospital on Cottman St.

The hospital told the Courier-Times however, that it had no former patient registered under either Kathleen Hutchison or Kathleen Matuszewski.

Marriage Denial

Police first thought that Veneziale was married but a sister of Veneziale denied this.

In a brief conversation with a Courier-Times reporter, the woman, who refused to give her name said, "my brother is single." She refused to talk any further or give any more information.

Miss Hutchison, accompanied by her attorney Robert Valimont of Power, Bowen and Valimont of Doylestown, was arraigned about 3 p.m. yesterday before Justice of the Peace Albert A. Schultz of Andalusia.

She did not say a word during the brief arraignment but appeared distraught and weary from the long ordeal of questioning by police.

Bucks County District Attorney Paul R. Beckert has not yet set a date for the hearing which will be held in Squire Schultz' office.

Food Fair To Be Food City

The Food Fair supermarket in the Levittown Shopping Center will close tomorrow for 10 days to allow re-modeling of the store for future operation as a discount market.

Food Fair officials said today that the store will close at 6 p.m. tomorrow and will re-open on Wednesday, April 3, under the name of Food City. Food Fair operates Food City discount markets in other parts of the Delaware Valley.

Stieber Is Seeking Post

On again . . . off again . . . on again.

That's the story with John R. Stieber, Bristol Township School Board director, who is one of eight Democratic candidates who have filed to run for three board posts in the May primary.

Steiber, under indictment with two other school directors for conspiracy in connection with the School district's job-selling scandal, will be seeking re-election to a six-year term.

A few days before he was rearrested in the job-selling plot, Steiber handed in his resignation from the board. However, he withdrew it and continued to serve on the nine-member board. It was thought he would decline running for another term.

But it became official Monday when Stieber's name was among the eight Democrats to file before the deadline.

The other Democrats are John J. Pann, who was appointed by the court to fill the unexpired term of Nicholas DeMara, Martin Rawdin, Thomas J. Walsh Jr., Daniel P. Mathers, John B. Winkler, Joseph McKenna and Norman Shapiro.

Republicans who have filed for the May primary are Thomas C. Derbyshire, who only last night announced his resignation as president of the Associate School Board, George F. Kline, Iva M. Stewart and Leroy D. Seymour.

Police Chase

gave a yell as he chased the youth through the block yard. Township police then converged on Fallsington Ave. where, with the assistance of Walterick and Steen, they began a search of sheds in the area.

It was only a matter of moments before the youth was spotby Tullytown Mills.

"He was stretched out flat on the roof," Walterick said. "It looked like he had passed out."

Steen, puffing and panting from the cross-country chase, went up on the roof and handed the youth down to Walterick and awaiting township officers. After handcuffing him, police then took the youth to Lower Bucks County Hospital for examination.

"Sheer exhaustion" was the disgnosis at the hospital where police learned the youth was 17-year-old George J. Frisell, an AWOL Marine. He was so exhausted from running three miles that it took several moments before he could answer questions from the police.

Turned over to Trooper Robert Isbitski of the Trevose state police station, it was learned that the youth was reported AWOL yesterday from the Marine Corps Recruiting Depot in Parris Island, S. C. He told police his home is in Mastic, L. I.

A check of the car he was driving revealed that it had been stolen from Buford, S.C.

State police are holding the Marine, awaiting word from the sheriff's office in Buford to see if he is wanted there. It's expected the Marine will be turned over to the Shore Patrol in Philadelphia later today.

Police said a map in Frisell's car had been marked with a route from Vanceboro, N.C.

The chase, which lasted for some 30 minutes, created quite a traffic jam on Tullytown's Main St. at 4:30 with cars backed up both ways at the time when workers were coming out from the U.S. Steel's Fairless Works. Minor traffic tieups took place along Route 13 during the whirlwind episode.

"The kid's in shape" was one remark overheard by police officer who said "the police had to work in relays to keep up with him."

Another was overheard to say "I'm too old to be chasing 17-year-old kids."

The youth certainly proved that Uncle Sam's Marines are in shape.

Pregnant Women Warned On 2 Drugs

LONDON (UPI) — British doctors were warned today about two drugs which may have an effect in pregnancy.

The drugs are "Marzine," which is used for travel sickness, and "Imipramine," an anti-depression pill. Both are in wide use here. A report on Imipramine was carried in the Lancet, a British medical journal. It was written by a research team at Guy's Hospital Medical School.

High Incidence

The team found that the administration of the drug to rabbits in doses "roughly proportional" to those used for human beings is accompanied by a high incidence of foetal abnormalities.

It concluded that treatment with Imipramine was "in all probability responsible" for the abnormalities.

"We must seriously consider whether Imipramine is liable to cause foetal abnormalities in man," the report said. It added that the drug "should be used with caution in women during the childbearing period."

The manufacturers, Geigy Pharmaceuticals of Manchester, said they had scrutinized 1,319 published papers covering 13,107 cases treated with the drug and found no foetal malformations reported.

Dr. J. M. Robson, of the department of pharmacology at Guy's, a member of the research team, said Imipramine is of Swiss origin and underwent two years of clinical trials before it was marketed here in January 1959.

Marzine Report

The Wellcome Foundation, manufacturer of Marzine, published a report in the British Medical Journal warning that the drug should not be taken by pregnant women except on the advice of their doctor.

It said investigations carried out in its laboratories and in the department of Embryology in the University of Paris, "indicate that at a very high dose-level, there is in a small proportion of laboratory animals some abnormal foetal development."

U.S. Steel Charges Japan For 'Dumping'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—U.S. Steel Corp. has charged that Japanese steel producers are exporting cold rolled steel sheet products to U.S. West Coast markets at prices under those charged in Japan in violation of the anti-dumping laws.

The American steel manufacturer said yesterday it has asked the customs office in Washington to investigate the alleged violations of federal law. Should violations be found the case then would go to the tariff commission which is empowered to increase the duties on the imports to bring them in line with the price for the same domestic items.

This was the second action taken on the broadening anti-dumping front his week. On Monday, the Treasury Department upheld the complaint of U.S. Steel mills that hot-rolled carbon steel wire rods are being imported from Belgium at cut-rate prices.

In its letter to commissioner of cutoms, U.S. Steel said that cold-rolled carbon steel sheet imports are being sold on the West Coast at prices as much as $40 under those charged to Japanese customers.

'Pike Workers May Organize

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The Transport Workers Union, AFL-CIO, has launched a drive to organize the Pennsylvania Turnpike's 2,000 employes.

Andrew J. Kaelin, international vice president of the union, said he has signed 95 turnpike employes as potential members following a meeting at the Howard Johnson Motor Lodge in Willow Grove.

The signers were from Philadelphia, Montgomery and Bucks counties, Kaelin said.

Man Charged In TV Thefts Is Released

Peter C. Kuhner, 20, confessed leader of a burglary ring specializing in looting Bucks County television stores, yesterday, at a hearing before Philadelphia Magistrate William Bleshman, accused "Chuck" Verneckoff, 44, of being the receiver of at least $1,600 worth of stolen portable TV sets.

But Magistrate Bleshman discharged Verneckoff, of 1444 Howell St., Philadelphia, after Philadelphia Assistant District Attorney Thomas Schamas conceded there was insufficient evidence against Verneckoff.

The Philadelphia assistant district attorney was assisted by Sgt. Anthony Fergione and Detective John Wagner, both of Middletown Township.

Didn't Hide Set

Verneckoff had made no effort to hide the red and white portable TV which was stolen from the A & B Television Shop, Middletown, his attorney pleaded.

Kuhner testified that it was one of 16 he sold Verneckoff.

Acting on Kuhner's original confession, police had found the red and white portable set prominently displayed in a show window of a television repair shop Verneckoff operates at 2200 N. 20th St., Philadelphia.

Recommendation

Captain Joseph Bonner of the Philadelphia police said today that he would recommend to the city's Quarter Session (Criminal) Court that Verneckoff be rearrested.

If the city's district attorney agrees with Bonner's recommendation a re-arrest hearing would probably be held sometime next week.

Request For Rites At Field Is Withdrawn

The Bensalem Boosters Association and the Bensalem Ministerium this week withdrew their request to use the Bensalem High School athletic field for Easter sunrise services April 14.

Although the request for use of the field was approved 4 to 2 by the school board last week, Reggie Samero, president of the boosters association, said at the school board's continued meeting Wednesday that the association wanted to withdraw the request to avoid any ill feeling among, or toward board members.

Samero said the association did not want to set a precedent or "put anyone on the hook" by the request for use of the school field, which had been opposed by board members John Lawson and Dave Seitz.

Lawson and Seitz voted against the measure after board solicitor George Kelton, in answer to the question regarding the legality, cited the Pennsylvania Constitution which prohibits use of school property for religious purposes.

Samero said he recognized the fact that "although everyone is invited to attend the sunrise service, the service could not be considered non-sectarian since all faiths do not observe Easter."

as before. What this vaccine does is contain the disease in the alimentary canal, impeding its invasion of the brain and spinal cord, he said. Thus, paralytic polio is prevented, he pointed out.

Since the virus strain is not killed — even in a community in which everyone has been inoculated — Dr. Goldfield said, a person not immunized, moving into the community, could be felled by polio. Technically speaking, an epidemic of polio could be raging through a community though all residents, assuming they were all inoculated, were unaware of it.

Sabin Vaccine

The Sabin oral vaccine, on the other hand, builds up an immunity in a person which causes death to the polio virus, Dr. Goldfield said. Since the virus can only survive in a human host, Dr. Goldfield said, a community 100 per cent immunized should be a community totally free of virus. A person not immunized, coming into the community, would therefore be as safe as anyone else, he declared.

"Herd Immunity"

Dr. Goldfield hopes the continuing tests will bear this out.

More specifically, Dr. Goldfield hopes to determine how long the "herd immunity" in Levittown, N.J. will last. Can the virus strain be sufficiently wiped out that it will not recur even after years of turnover in the community? Can a barrier or "wall of immunization" be built up that will bar entry of the virus for years to come? If so, for how many years?

So far, Dr. William Meyer, head of the Bucks County Department of Health, has given his OK for the project. However, a few more technicalities have to be cleared up before it can begin.

Dr. Goldfield said running comparisons would be made over the years and released periodically to the public.

Burglars Again Loot School Headquarters

Burglars sometime last night for the second time in less than a year entered the historic old Summerseat building, headquarters for the Morrisville Schools.

Dr. Paul Phillips, superintendent, told Morrisville police he discovered the entry at about 7:30 a.m. today when he reported to work.

Missing were a $320 electric typewriter; an adding machine, valued at $250 and four rolls of five cent stamps, valued at $20.

The typewriter and adding machines were replacements for ones stolen when burglars entered the building last June.

Sgt. Stanley Naprawa and patrolmen Harry Tomlinson and Joseph Cavanaugh investigated Police said burglars pried open a basement door, then forced open two others doors to gain entrance to the office on the first floor, where the items were taken.

Mrs. Margaret Smith, board secretary who occupies the office, said this morning, "I had to borrow a typewriter to work today." She added that burglars "must have found a good market for these machines."

U.S. Proposal Called 'Peril'

GENEVA (UPI) — Communist Romania charged today that American disarmament proposals, far from guaranteeing actual disarmament, "actually spell peril for international peace and security."

Romanian delegate George Macovescu told the 17-nation disarmament conference the United States was trying to circumvent the United Nations by setting up such bodies as the Peace Corps and the proposed international disarmament organization.

"This would amount to a serious infringement upon the sovereignty of states, to a violation of the principles proclaimed by the U.N. charter," he said. "It would amount to encroachment upon the respect which sovereign states are entitled to."

In a speech which rambled over both general and complete disarmament and the nuclear testing situation, Macovescu called on the western powers to give a "clear and unequivocal answer" to a Soviet offer last year to change the formula for the suggested disarmament process.

Earlier, the United States and Russia were reported in agreement on how to break the procedural deadlock at this conference, of which they are co-chairmen.

The flood on the Neshaminy Creek of July 15 and 16, 1865, was known as the "Great Flood" because watermarks show that it crested 4½ feet higher than any flood before or since.

You can enjoy a lawn like this!

A few hours spent outdoors this week will condition your lawn for spring. The dividends will be beauty and endurance all year long. The Lawn Check List below will help YOU decide what YOUR lawn needs. Read it over. Then pay us a visit at SNIPES NURSERY, and let our professional staff get you started right.

LAWN CHECK LIST

☐ Fertilize early with a good lawn food. This gives the good grasses the jump on hot weather weeds and crowds out crabgrass. WE RECOMMEND "Uniform" 10-6-4. Contains 75% organic nitrogen. Releases nutrients slowly. Lasts through summer. Apply early spring, fall. 50 lb. bag covers 5000 sq. ft. . . . $4.75 to cover 5000 sq. ft.

☐ Apply pre-emergent crabgrass killer on established turf before soil warms up. If crabgrass was troublesome last year, it will be again unless you do something about it. WE RECOMMEND Lebanon's timesaving "Three-in-One." Each bag does three jobs: 1) Dacthal to kill crabgrass seedlings. 2) Uniform 10-6-4 fertilizer. 3) DDT to kill grubs. $9.95 to cover 3000 sq. ft.

☐ Sow a good grade of grass seed, predominantly blue grass, to thicken up turf. Don't plant "nurse crops" or rye grass which only rob the soil of nutrients the good grasses need. WE RECOMMEND Green Valley Grass Seed — new this year. Specialy formulated by Bucks County nurserymen to meet the requirements of Bucks County lawns. "Gold Ribbon" — for the show lawn. 5 lb. $6.95. "Country Club" — very fine, all around turf maker. 5 lb. $5.49. "Tuff Turf" — for play and other hard-wear areas. 5 lb. $4.00.

☐ Apply limestone at the rate of 50 lb. per 1000 sq. ft. — the recommended rate, although it will seem heavy to a novice. Lawns in Bucks County need liming about every three years. WE RECOMMEND Warner Pulverized Limestone — graded carefully for quick action on your lawn. Won't gum up spreader. 50 & 80 lb. bags.

Police Chase (Puff Puff) AWOL Marine

Uncle Sam's Marines are in fine physical shape.

Take it from several Lower Bucks police officers who found out the hard way yesterday afternoon.

It all started shortly after 4 p.m. when a youth, driving a car with South Carolina license plates, got on the Pennsylvania Turnpike at the Delaware Valley interchange off Route 13.

After receiving his turnpike ticket, he continued on the Northeast Extension before realizing he was lost. The youth then made a U-turn and went back to the Delaware Valley interchange to get off the turnpike.

However, Joseph Plunkett, toll collector, told him he'd have to pay $3.75 — the toll for the length of the turnpike from here the Ohio line.

When the youth said he didn't have any money, Plunkett asked for his driver's license. To this the youth said "I don't have it."

Plunkett then told the youth he would have to call the state police. While the toll collector was phoning the Plymouth Meeting barracks, the youth jumped out of his car, leaped over a fence and proceeded on foot down an embankment toward Route 13.

This is where the fun began as Trooper Norton Greening of the Plymouth Meeting station radioed for help from Bristol Township police and the state police barracks at Trevose.

Motorists Were Aghast

Motorists on busy Route 13 were aghast as they saw blue, red and gray-colored police cars speeding and stopping at various points along the highway. But each time the police officers thought they had their man he eluded them.

As the elusive youth, who displayed peak physical fitness as he ran through high grass, wooded areas and across roads, continued toward Levittown, Tullytown Borough police were summoned to the chase.

The fleet-footed youth was stopped in the Levittown Shopping Center by Tullytown Patrolman John Steen, but only momentarily. He escaped Steen's clutches and took up his footwork on Route 13 toward the Courier-Times building.

Radioed Ahead

Steen then radioed for Chief John B. Walterick to join in the pursuit the youth who was wearing combat boots. Walterick met up with Steen on the railroad bridge leading to Tullytown.

After spotting their quarry in the vicinity of Picone Brothers Blocks and Bricks, Inc., on Oxford Ave., Tullytown the Bristol Township police began to narrow the search.

Township police, led by Lt. Richard Templeton, scoured a field in the rear of Picone's while Walterick went along the railroad tracks.

Spotting him again, Walterick

N.Y. Papers Wait Vote On Sunday

NEW YORK (UPI) — Newspaper truck drivers came to terms today on a new contract with publishers of New York City's shut down newspapers.

The newspaper and mail deliverers union hailed the pact as "one of the best agreements we've ever reached." They moved to the sidelines with three other unions which have settled their disputes with management in line with terms proposed by Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

Return To Bargaining

Three other unions went back to the bargaining tables today. Negotiators hoped to wind up their chores by Sunday in time for what could be the grand finale of the 15-week-old blackout—the Madison Square Garden meeting of striking printers, who will vote a second time on the contract they rejected last week.

Good Evening!

Mr. Kennedy certain he'll get his proposed tax cut.

His idea is right and no question that a substantial reduction would be what the doctor ordered for the nation's sluggish economy.

But we doubt that Congress will fill the prescription unless there's some pretty dramatic evidence that the administration will embark on a sensible economy program. That evidence we haven't had.

But we're still a bit disturbed that Pensacola's Vice Admiral Lee and Willow Grove's Captain Waldman gave us an icy stare when we talked about enlisting.

Anyhow, we're happy that the Phils are winning again. You see where they outslugged the Dodgers 8-7 yesterday?

Woman Held On Murder Charge

Police Seek Another Motive For Shooting

By PAUL ALTAIRE
Courier-Times Staff Writer

Bensalem police, state police of Trevose and Bucks County detectives are continuing their investigation into the bizarre slaying of a Philadelphia real estate salesman during a tryst with a divorcee at the Lincoln Motel, Route 1, Trevose, early yesterday morning.

The salesman, Jerry F. Veneziale, 37, was discovered lying across a bed in Unit 3 of the motel with five bullet wounds in his head, shoulders and neck. His body, lying in a pool of blood, was unclothed.

Held Without Bail

Held without bail on an open murder charge is Kathleen Hutchison, 27, also of Philadelphia, with whom Veneziale had registered as man and wife in the motel about 1:30 a.m. yesterday. That was about 2½ hours before Miss Hutchison allegedly pulled the trigger of a .38 calibre special Colt revolver which snuffed out her boy friend's life.

Miss Hutchison, whose married name had been Matuszewski, stuck to her story that Veneziale's disparaging remarks about her father had prompted the slaying. But police were checking further into the background of the couple to determine if there was another motive for the tragedy.

Among the loose ends which police today are trying to tie up is a doctor's bill to Miss Hutchison dated last year for the delivery of a child. The bill was in the same purse which carried the service revolver belonging to her father, James Hutchison, a retired Philadelphia policeman.

Miss Hutchison, who was committed yesterday to Bucks County Prison to await a hearing, told police she had brought the gun along to her meeting with Veneziale because Veneziale had asked to borrow it "for protection against somebody who had been threatening him."

The Hutchison woman told police that she was the mother of a three-year-old daughter, Pam-

Free Eye Examinations

4th Glaucoma Clinic Planned For April 6

The annual glaucoma clinic organized by Bristol Lions Club and the Bucks County Association for the Blind will be held in Bristol on April 6.

Free eye examinations will be given at the blind association workshop on Bath Road between 2 and 5 p.m. Persons over the age of 40 who have not had a recent eye examination are urged to attend.

The two organizations will also provide free transporation to the workship from Cedar and Mill Sts., Bristol, area during the afternoon.

Glaucoma Explained

Alan J. Vogenberg, a member of the Lions, said that glaucoma is a disease of the eye which comes upon an individual without any prior warning. It can, however, be detected by using a special instrument that measures the pressure on the eye ball, and can be treated.

"The test itself is not harm-

Twp. Police Force Called To Meeting

Bristol Township's entire police force was summoned to a special departmental meeting this afternoon by Chief John R. Stewart.

Purpose of the meeting with the 39 officers in the Croydon School was believed to be in regards to recent complaints of "irregular conduct" by certain police officers.

Commissioners Harry W. Fawkes and Leonard B. Sokolove also attended the meeting at which they were to inform the policemen that the township is setting up a code of ethics and changing rules of conduct within the department.

A complaint had been made to Township Manager Vincent H. Hartley by a group of clergymen, who in turn were referred to Chief Stewart. Later, Fawkes and Sokolove, president and vice president of the board of commissioners, met with the clergymen.

Sokolove said the complaints were "personal matters." He said that the board has "no proof or no concrete evidence" at the present time to warrant disciplinary action.

Fawkes said "we expect them to toe the line. We're going to tell them they'll have a choice to make."

The alleged misconduct is reported to have taken place during duty hours.

The clergymen are also holding a meeting today to further discuss the situation within the police department.

Bali Volcano Toll Mounts

JAKARTA, Indonesia (UPI) — More than 1,100 persons were officially estimated to have been killed in Sunday's eruption of Bali's sacred Guning Agung volcano but the actual toll is believed much higher, it was reported today.

Bozidar Pahor, of the Yugoslav newspaper Delo, who arrived in Singapore after visiting the disaster scene on Bali, said many regions around the volcanic mountain still are cut off by a blanket of hot ashes and lava and it is impossible to obtain an accurate count of casualties.

Pahor said it is estimated that there are at least 75,000 persons homeless as a result of the eruption of the sacred volcano, on whose slopes sits the centuries-old Besakih Hindu temple.

At least 1,500 persons were reported injured, and more than 1,000 homes destroyed.

Seventy-six survivors have been hospitalized with burns from the scorching ash and injuries inflicted by falling rocks.

She's Now Mrs.

Nancy Anne Fleming, Miss America of 1961, and her husband, William Johnson, Okemos, Mich., could still smile as they left the Michigan State University chapel after their wedding in East Lansing yesterday. The whole affair wasn't fun, however, as Nancy Anne argued with newsmen and photographers about coverage of the ceremonies. No newsmen were allowed in the wedding and Nancy Anne, an MSU junior from Montague, Mich., turned her back when they tried to picture her cutting her wedding cake afterwards. Assoc. Board Raps Below-Par Rooms

By SCOOP LEWIS
Courier-Times Staff Writer

Bristol Township's School Board came under fire from two sides last night for its plans to use more sub-standard classrooms in order to handle increased enrollment in the township's 11 elementary schools.

The Associate School Board, a watchdog group made up of one representative from each of the township's 15 PTA's, criticized sub-standard classrooms for "creating hardships for both the teachers and the students which can have an adverse effect on the educational results."

"Chasing Teachers"

Joining in the group's sentiments was a mother of two elementary school children who warned the school board that it is "chasing good people and teachers out of the township.

There is one sub-standard classroom being used today in each of six elementary schools. The school administration is asking for eight more sub-standard rooms to handle increased enrollment in the 11 elementary schools next year.

A sub-standard room is one which was not built for classroom purposes, such as a cafeteria, library and all-purpose room.

Assails Board

Mrs. Bernice Newburne, who has two boys in John Fitch School, located on Greenbrook Drive and Field Lane in Levittown, assailed the board for "taking away extra-curricular rooms" from the 609 pupils in the school.

She noted that the cafeteria, which is also used as the school library, has a sub-standard classroom which was set up last Sep-

For Salk Vs. Sabin Polio Vaccines

2 Levittowns May Become Test Cities

By AL CHESTER
Courier-Times Staff Writer

The two Levittowns — in Penn-Pennsylvania and New Jersey — may become test areas to determine the superiority of one type of polio vaccine over the other.

This was revealed today by Dr. Martin Goldfield of Levittown, N. J., chairman of the public health committee of the Burlington County Medical Association.

The communities are ideal for such a test, Dr. Goldfield said, because the people in the Pennsylvania community are immunized almost exclusively by the Salk inoculations, while their counterparts across the river receive the Sabin oral vaccine.

Period Of Years

The tests will be conducted over a period of several years by monitoring the sewage systems of both communities for polio virus and then comparing them.

Sewage of Levittown, N.J. has been under scrutiny for the last eight months. The health committee hopes to get the necessary clearance to begin its studies of Levittown, Bucks County, this summer.

What Dr. Goldfield hopes to prove by the tests is that, over a period of years, polio virus will be wiped out or greatly reduced in the Sabin community, while the Salk community will be as much infested with polio virus as before.

Both Immunize

According to Dr. Goldfield, both vaccines immunize, but the Sabin kills the virus while the Salk enables a person to fight off the virus, but does not destroy it.

According to Dr. Goldfield, a person who receives a Salk inoculation can still contract the disease, and pass it on to others,

Trio Nabbed Trying To Scale Wall

Three inmates at the Bucks County Prison in Doylestown were caught by prison guards Wednesday afternoon as they were attempting to scale the prison wall, it was learned today.

The three, Robert Foxhill, 19, 2621 Windsor Drive; Walter Sherwood, 21, 29 Crafton Drive, both of Nottingham and Robert Donecker, 19, Cherry Hill, N.J., were trying to go over the wall with the aid of a sash cord at 2:45 p.m.

Donecker and Foxhill three weeks ago were convicted by a Bucks County Criminal jury of armed robbery and burglary and larceny in Bensalem Township. They are awaiting sentencing.

Sherwood was indicated by the Bucks February Grand Jury on charges of burglarizing a dwelling in Middletown Township with three other men.

Major John D. Case, prison warden, said the three denied that they were trying to escape. They were formally charged with attempted prison breach before Justice of the Peace Clayton Lewis of Doylestown.

Major Case said "the men were very fortunate in being caught before trying to scale the 18-foot wall." He said a high voltage wire encircled the prison wall.

Yesterday an inmate was beaten by Walter Doneker, 23, brother of Robert Doneker. The warden did not give the name of the inmate but said he did not receive any serious injuries.

Major Case said apparently Walter thought that the inmate was responsible for his brother and the two others being caught. The warden said he felt the man was not involved. He said, however, he is continuing an investigation into the incident.

Kennedy: 'Wait And See' On Troops

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy took a wait-and-see attitude today on Soviet troop withdrawals from Cuba even though there were indications Russia might be preparing to pull out more forces.

The President told his news conference Thursday night that the Russians were estimated to have withdrawn "approximately 3,000 troops in these past weeks."

"We are waiting to see whether more will be withdrawn, as we would hope they would be," he added.

Other sources in Washington cited reports that one or more Soviet ships might be getting ready to remove additional Russians from the island.

There remained a big question in U.S. intelligence circles whether the Soviet personnel who have left Cuba were combat forces or merely military technicians.

It was learned that so far the Kennedy administration has not seen equipment leaving the island which would indicate that the recent departures included combat forces — at least not many.

Aerial photographs of persons which would indicate that the recent departures included combat forces — at least not many.

Aerial photographs of persons leaving on ships does not indicate the nature of the personnel. This must be learned from intelligence inside Cuba and from watching the kinds of equipment moved out.

The absence of shipments of combat-unit equipment was not regarded as conclusive, however.

The Kremlin promised on Feb. 19 to remove "several thousand" of its military forces from Cuba by mid-March.

Kennedy gave the Russians the benefit of the doubt on the timing. He declined to answer specifically when asked whether he thought the Kremlin had "honored" its commitment.

Nice Weekend It Says Here

Priest Tells 30 Pupils They Must Quit Going Steady

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (UPI) — The Rev. James Carey, who outlawed steady dating at St. Michael's High School last month, told the assembled student body yesterday 30 of them faced expulsion if they did not heed the ban by Monday.

"You know who you are," Father Carey said. "Unless you come to see me in the rectory by Monday morning, you better not come to school."

Later, the Roman Catholic priest said most of the 30 students had come to him voluntarily and said they would abide by the ruling.

Father Carey delivered a 45-minute sermon to the 600 students and apologized for the international attention his ban had drawn.

"This is not a reflection on you," he told the students. "It is a manifestation of the deep interest in this subject."

He said he had received about 2,000 letters since the news of his dating ban became publicized in early February.

"Ninety-eight per cent of them are in favor of it," he said, and added he intended to edit the letters and have them put into book form "to let the parents who wrote me speak for themselves."

Father Carey told the students he called the assembly because he had heard there was "misinformed criticism" going about among them.

He said the ban applies only to steady dating between the same two parties to the exclusion of all others.

The former Army chaplain also outlined the reasons why he ordered the ban.

"We see the results all around us in the growing number of teenage unwed mothers," he said. "Can we doubt the cause?"

tember. "This was to have been on a temporary basis," she declared.

Under plans presented by District Superintendent Robert P. Martin, the all-purpose room at John Fitch is to be turned into a sub - standard classroom next September. When told this would also be a temporary move, Mrs. Newburne asked "how temporary? For seven years?"

One In Each

There is one sub-standard classroom in each of the Fitch, Ralph Waldo Emerson, Lafayette, James Buchanan, Thomas Jefferson and Abraham Lincoln Schools.

Plans for the 1963-64 school term call for two more sub - standard rooms in the Lincoln and Lafayette Schools, two to be created in the Maple Shade School and one in each of the Fitch and Clara Barton Schools.

Under a projected plan presented to the school board, Martin has recommended adding 20 rooms for the 1964-65 school term — eight to Lafayette School and 12 to Clara Barton.

Permanent Facilities

Martin said that these additions would provide permanent classroom facilities for the elementary school population for 1964 - 65 through 1967-68. "With such additions," he noted, "it will still be necessary to use sub - standard classrooms in Emerson, Buchanan and Lafayette."

He added that "if additional classrooms were provided instead of using the sub-standard rooms, the newly-constructed classrooms may not be necessary in 1968-69."

The school board last night named the architectural firm of Kramer, Hirsch and Carchidi of Trenton to survey the township's school needs and draft preliminary plans for additions on existing schools.

The Associate School Board specifically attacked the hardships created by the temporary classrooms on both teachers and students such as poor lighting, noise and odors and the elimination of many extra-curricular activities, like music education and closed TV studies.

Non - availability of the all-purpose rooms for their original intented purpose, the advisory group contended, "eliminates a greater part of indoor physical training and is not in accordance with the President's physical fitness program for which this school district was chosen as a pilot area."

The associate board also rapped plans to concentrate construction of new, permanent classrooms at two of the district's 11 elementary schools, urging that the proposed building be distributed over all the schools according to "realistic anticipated growth in each school's population."

In answer to criticism over the lack of kindergardens, Martin said he had recommended two years ago that kindergartens be started. He said he would welcome the help of the associate board in pressuring for initiation of a kindergarten system.

Other Action

In other action last night the township school board:

Approved financial revisions in the resolution to dissolve the Delhaas Jointure (Bristol Township and Tullytown Borough boards) by June 14, 1963;

Set up a committee, headed by school director John J. Pann, to go over the district's insurance program with Robert Quinn, broker of record, and board members Charles J. McGrath, Newton H. Parkes and John R. Stieber. McGrath directed several questions at Quinn last night regarding return premiums and fire rates.

Heard its solicitor, Edwin N. Popkin state that it is his opinion that it would be unconstitutional to allow the Levittown-Fairless Hills Ministerium—an association of Protestant ministers—to use the Woodrow Wilson High School football field for Easter sunrise services. Popkin said such a move would violate constitutions of both the United States and Pennsylvania.

Four Motions

After four motions, voted to recognize and work with the Associate School Board as an advisory group.

Granted Mrs. Mary Lou Beyers, of Levittown, School nurse since 1953, sabbatical leave for the 1963-64 school year at a reimbursement of $3,000.

Approved tenure contracts for Mrs. Josephine McGinty of Levittown, school nurse at Immaculate Conception School, and Mrs. Catherine Stewart of Levittown, school nurse at St. Lukes Lutheran and St. Thomas Schools, since they have completed two years of satisfactory work in the Commonwealth.

Granted professional leave for Henry B. Decker, assistant superintendent in charge of business, to attend the convention of Pennsylvania Association of School Business Officials in Gettysburg on April 25-26.

Drunk Driving Charge Lodged

A Levittown man flunked a test this morning and, as a result, will have to go to court.

Lee Sterling Brown, 41, of 15 Rambler Lane, Red Cedar Hill, Levittown was taken to state police barracks at Trevose and tested for drunkeness. He was taken by Falls Township police after his car collided with a tractor-trailer at 1:10 a.m. on Route 1 near Oxford Valley Road.

After the test, Brown was taken before Justice of the Peace John Melvin and charged with reckless driving and drunken driving. He was released in $500 bail to await court action.

The driver of the truck was James Finefrock, 36, of Mt. Joy, Pa.

Going in Circles

By Albert Mitry

Thomas McCann, 13, of 43 Viburnum Lane, Vermilion Hill, Levittown, and his friend, Steve Egbert, 12, also of Levittown, have something in common with Tom Sawyer.

Tom reports he not only "saw a grave open-up," but that Steve was almost "caught" by the grave's opening.

The story began, the boys say, when they "were looking at the old graves," in the Quaker Falls Meeting Cemetery, Newportville and Tyburn Roads, Saturday.

Suddenly the ground under Steve's feet started to crumble, "Steve turned white," Tom says, but Tom couldn't give us more details because after seeing Steve descend several feet he promptly decided to visit elsewhere.

Louis Leedom, Falls Quaker Meeting property committee chairman, reports the grave will be quickly repaired.

"After attending this event you can't help but feel you've survived some sort of emotional crisis."

"More fun than an old fashioned taffy-pull."

"A modified version of the Chinese water torture."

"A wonderful way for the kids to let-off steam."

These were some of the comments heard from persons in the overflow crowds which attended last weekend's annual gym nite at several Lower Bucks high schools.

At the recent meeting of the Middletown School Board, an irate member of the audience, who claimed to be an accountant, by "profession" challenged the board with "I know accounting is a black art and I would just like to know what criterion you use to determine just what part of your budget will cover certain expenses."

John E. Paul, business administrator of the Neshaminy High School, answered, tersely "The state determines what proportions of our budget will be spent on each expense."

In Pageant

Suzanne Louise Spicer of Levittown will be a contestant in the Miss Universe Pageant. Miss Spicer will participate in the Miss Bucks County Pageant, sponsored by the American Business Clubs, Lower Bucks County Chapter. The contest will be held in the Club Demi, Langhorne, in April. Persons wishing to participate in the event have been asked to contact Mrs. Albert Tong at WIndsor 5-6025 or Mrs. Harvey Taylor at WIndsor 5-5525. Applications may also be obtained at the Courier-Times office.

Sewer Worker Dies On Job

A worker on the Upper Southampton sewer system dropped dead in a ditch he was closing yesterday on Temple St. at 3:15 p.m.

Bud Evitts, 43, Llewellyn (Pa.) resident, was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. Gomer T. Williams Jr. Dr. Williams was summoned at the same time the Trevose Heights Rescue Squad was called.

Evitts was an employe of the Frane Construction Company. He had recently brought his wife home from the hospital where she had been recovering from a severe heart attack, it was reported.

He was working on the resurfacing of Temple St. as the Frane crews are preparing for a temporary resurfacing of streets in the Willow-Penn district.

Among the hospitals in Philadelphia which police were checking was Rolling Hill Hospital on Cottman St.

The hospital told the Courier-Times however, that it had no former patient registered under either Kathleen Hutchison or Kathleen Matuszewski.

Marriage Denial

Police first thought that Veneziale was married but a sister of Veneziale denied this.

In a brief conversation with a Courier-Times reporter, the woman, who refused to give her name said, "my brother is single." She refused to talk any further or give any more information.

Miss Hutchison, accompanied by her attorney Robert Valimont of Power, Bowen and Valimont of Doylestown, was arraigned about 3 p.m. yesterday before Justice of the Peace Albert A. Schultz of Andalusia.

She did not say a word during the brief arraignment but appeared distraught and weary from the long ordeal of questioning by police.

Bucks County District Attorney Paul R. Beckert has not yet set a date for the hearing which will be held in Squire Schultz' office.

Food Fair To Be Food City

The Food Fair supermarket in the Levittown Shopping Center will close tomorrow for 10 days to allow re-modeling of the store for future operation as a discount market.

Food Fair officials said today that the store will close at 6 p.m. tomorrow and will re-open on Wednesday, April 3, under the name of Food City. Food Fair operates Food City discount markets in other parts of the Delaware Valley.

Stieber Is Seeking Post

On again . . . off again . . . on again.

That's the story with John R. Stieber, Bristol Township School Board director, who is one of eight Democratic candidates who have filed to run for three board posts in the May primary.

Steiber, under indictment with two other school directors for conspiracy in connection with the School district's job-selling scandal, will be seeking re-election to a six-year term.

A few days before he was rearrested in the job-selling plot, Steiber handed in his resignation from the board. However, he withdrew it and continued to serve on the nine-member board. It was thought he would decline running for another term.

But it became official Monday when Stieber's name was among the eight Democrats to file before the deadline.

The other Democrats are John J. Pann, who was appointed by the court to fill the unexpired term of Nicholas DeMara, Martin Rawdin, Thomas J. Walsh Jr., Daniel P. Mathers, John B. Winkler, Joseph McKenna and Norman Shapiro.

Republicans who have filed for the May primary are Thomas C. Derbyshire, who only last night announced his resignation as president of the Associate School Board, George F. Kline, Iva M. Stewart and Leroy D. Seymour.

Police Chase

gave a yell as he chased the youth through the block yard. Township police then converged on Fallsington Ave. where, with the assistance of Walterick and Steen, they began a search of sheds in the area.

It was only a matter of moments before the youth was spotby Tullytown Mills.

"He was stretched out flat on the roof," Walterick said. "It looked like he had passed out."

Steen, puffing and panting from the cross-country chase, went up on the roof and handed the youth down to Walterick and awaiting township officers. After handcuffing him, police then took the youth to Lower Bucks County Hospital for examination.

"Sheer exhaustion" was the disgnosis at the hospital where police learned the youth was 17-year-old George J. Frisell, an AWOL Marine. He was so exhausted from running three miles that it took several moments before he could answer questions from the police.

Turned over to Trooper Robert Isbitski of the Trevose state police station, it was learned that the youth was reported AWOL yesterday from the Marine Corps Recruiting Depot in Parris Island, S. C. He told police his home is in Mastic, L. I.

A check of the car he was driving revealed that it had been stolen from Buford, S.C.

State police are holding the Marine, awaiting word from the sheriff's office in Buford to see if he is wanted there. It's expected the Marine will be turned over to the Shore Patrol in Philadelphia later today.

Police said a map in Frisell's car had been marked with a route from Vanceboro, N.C.

The chase, which lasted for some 30 minutes, created quite a traffic jam on Tullytown's Main St. at 4:30 with cars backed up both ways at the time when workers were coming out from the U.S. Steel's Fairless Works. Minor traffic tieups took place along Route 13 during the whirlwind episode.

"The kid's in shape" was one remark overheard by police officer who said "the police had to work in relays to keep up with him."

Another was overheard to say "I'm too old to be chasing 17-year-old kids."

The youth certainly proved that Uncle Sam's Marines are in shape.

Pregnant Women Warned On 2 Drugs

LONDON (UPI) — British doctors were warned today about two drugs which may have an effect in pregnancy.

The drugs are "Marzine," which is used for travel sickness, and "Imipramine," an anti-depression pill. Both are in wide use here. A report on Imipramine was carried in the Lancet, a British medical journal. It was written by a research team at Guy's Hospital Medical School.

High Incidence

The team found that the administration of the drug to rabbits in doses "roughly proportional" to those used for human beings is accompanied by a high incidence of foetal abnormalities.

It concluded that treatment with Imipramine was "in all probability responsible" for the abnormalities.

"We must seriously consider whether Imipramine is liable to cause foetal abnormalities in man," the report said. It added that the drug "should be used with caution in women during the childbearing period."

The manufacturers, Geigy Pharmaceuticals of Manchester, said they had scrutinized 1,319 published papers covering 13,107 cases treated with the drug and found no foetal malformations reported.

Dr. J. M. Robson, of the department of pharmacology at Guy's, a member of the research team, said Imipramine is of Swiss origin and underwent two years of clinical trials before it was marketed here in January 1959.

Marzine Report

The Wellcome Foundation, manufacturer of Marzine, published a report in the British Medical Journal warning that the drug should not be taken by pregnant women except on the advice of their doctor.

It said investigations carried out in its laboratories and in the department of Embryology in the University of Paris, "indicate that at a very high dose-level, there is in a small proportion of laboratory animals some abnormal foetal development."

U.S. Steel Charges Japan For 'Dumping'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—U.S. Steel Corp. has charged that Japanese steel producers are exporting cold rolled steel sheet products to U.S. West Coast markets at prices under those charged in Japan in violation of the anti-dumping laws.

The American steel manufacturer said yesterday it has asked the customs office in Washington to investigate the alleged violations of federal law. Should violations be found the case then would go to the tariff commission which is empowered to increase the duties on the imports to bring them in line with the price for the same domestic items.

This was the second action taken on the broadening anti-dumping front his week. On Monday, the Treasury Department upheld the complaint of U.S. Steel mills that hot-rolled carbon steel wire rods are being imported from Belgium at cut-rate prices.

In its letter to commissioner of cutoms, U.S. Steel said that cold-rolled carbon steel sheet imports are being sold on the West Coast at prices as much as $40 under those charged to Japanese customers.

'Pike Workers May Organize

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The Transport Workers Union, AFL-CIO, has launched a drive to organize the Pennsylvania Turnpike's 2,000 employes.

Andrew J. Kaelin, international vice president of the union, said he has signed 95 turnpike employes as potential members following a meeting at the Howard Johnson Motor Lodge in Willow Grove.

The signers were from Philadelphia, Montgomery and Bucks counties, Kaelin said.

Man Charged In TV Thefts Is Released

Peter C. Kuhner, 20, confessed leader of a burglary ring specializing in looting Bucks County television stores, yesterday, at a hearing before Philadelphia Magistrate William Bleshman, accused "Chuck" Verneckoff, 44, of being the receiver of at least $1,600 worth of stolen portable TV sets.

But Magistrate Bleshman discharged Verneckoff, of 1444 Howell St., Philadelphia, after Philadelphia Assistant District Attorney Thomas Schamas conceded there was insufficient evidence against Verneckoff.

The Philadelphia assistant district attorney was assisted by Sgt. Anthony Fergione and Detective John Wagner, both of Middletown Township.

Didn't Hide Set

Verneckoff had made no effort to hide the red and white portable TV which was stolen from the A & B Television Shop, Middletown, his attorney pleaded.

Kuhner testified that it was one of 16 he sold Verneckoff.

Acting on Kuhner's original confession, police had found the red and white portable set prominently displayed in a show window of a television repair shop Verneckoff operates at 2200 N. 20th St., Philadelphia.

Recommendation

Captain Joseph Bonner of the Philadelphia police said today that he would recommend to the city's Quarter Session (Criminal) Court that Verneckoff be rearrested.

If the city's district attorney agrees with Bonner's recommendation a re-arrest hearing would probably be held sometime next week.

County Voters May Register

In Bristol they will be at the municipal building, Mulberry and Pond Streets; in Falls Township, they will be at Kane's Supermarket, 93 Makefield Road and in Bensalem at Butch's Market, Lincoln Highway and Street Road.

The hours are 2 to 9 p.m. at each location.

Any county voter may register at these locations, regardless of their voting district.

Party changes may also be registered. April 1 is the last date of registration.

Request For Rites At Field Is Withdrawn

The Bensalem Boosters Association and the Bensalem Ministerium this week withdrew their request to use the Bensalem High School athletic field for Easter sunrise services April 14.

Although the request for use of the field was approved 4 to 2 by the school board last week, Reggie Samero, president of the boosters association, said at the school board's continued meeting Wednesday that the association wanted to withdraw the request to avoid any ill feeling among, or toward board members.

Samero said the association did not want to set a precedent or "put anyone on the hook" by the request for use of the school field, which had been opposed by board members John Lawson and Dave Seitz.

Lawson and Seitz voted against the measure after board solicitor George Kelton, in answer to the question regarding the legality, cited the Pennsylvania Constitution which prohibits use of school property for religious purposes.

Samero said he recognized the fact that "although everyone is invited to attend the sunrise service, the service could not be considered non-sectarian since all faiths do not observe Easter."

Levittowns

as before. What this vaccine does is contain the disease in the alimentary canal, impeding its invasion of the brain and spinal cord, he said. Thus, paralytic polio is prevented, he pointed out.

Since the virus strain is not killed — even in a community in which everyone has been inoculated — Dr. Goldfield said, a person not immunized, moving into the community, could be felled by polio. Technically speaking, an epidemic of polio could be raging through a community though all residents, assuming they were all inoculated, were unaware of it.

Sabin Vaccine

The Sabin oral vaccine, on the other hand, builds up an immunity in a person which causes death to the polio virus, Dr. Goldfield said. Since the virus can only survive in a human host, Dr. Goldfield said, a community 100 per cent immunized should be a community totally free of virus. A person not immunized, coming into the community, would therefore be as safe as anyone else, he declared.

"Herd Immunity"

Dr. Goldfield hopes the continuing tests will bear this out.

More specifically, Dr. Goldfield hopes to determine how long the "herd immunity" in Levittown, N.J. will last. Can the virus strain be sufficiently wiped out that it will not recur even after years of turnover in the community? Can a barrier or "wall of immunization" be built up that will bar entry of the virus for years to come? If so, for how many years?

So far, Dr. William Meyer, head of the Bucks County Department of Health, has given his OK for the project. However, a few more technicalities have to be cleared up before it can begin.

Dr. Goldfield said running comparisons would be made over the years and released periodically to the public.

Burglars Again Loot School Headquarters

Burglars sometime last night for the second time in less than a year entered the historic old Summerseat building, headquarters for the Morrisville Schools.

Dr. Paul Phillips, superintendent, told Morrisville police he discovered the entry at about 7:30 a.m. today when he reported to work.

Missing were a $320 electric typewriter; an adding machine, valued at $250 and four rolls of five cent stamps, valued at $20.

The typewriter and adding machines were replacements for ones stolen when burglars entered the building last June.

Sgt. Stanley Naprawa and patrolmen Harry Tomlinson and Joseph Cavanaugh investigated Police said burglars pried open a basement door, then forced open two others doors to gain entrance to the office on the first floor, where the items were taken.

Mrs. Margaret Smith, board secretary who occupies the office, said this morning, "I had to borrow a typewriter to work today." She added that burglars "must have found a good market for these machines."

U.S. Proposal Called 'Peril'

GENEVA (UPI) — Communist Romania charged today that American disarmament proposals, far from guaranteeing actual disarmament, "actually spell peril for international peace and security."

Romanian delegate George Macovescu told the 17-nation disarmament conference the United States was trying to circumvent the United Nations by setting up such bodies as the Peace Corps and the proposed international disarmament organization.

"This would amount to a serious infringement upon the sovereignty of states, to a violation of the principles proclaimed by the U.N. charter," he said. "It would amount to encroachment upon the respect which sovereign states are entitled to."

In a speech which rambled over both general and complete disarmament and the nuclear testing situation, Macovescu called on the western powers to give a "clear and unequivocal answer" to a Soviet offer last year to change the formula for the suggested disarmament process.

Earlier, the United States and Russia were reported in agreement on how to break the procedural deadlock at this conference, of which they are co-chairmen.

The flood on the Neshaminy Creek of July 15 and 16, 1865, was known as the "Great Flood" because watermarks show that it crested 4½ feet higher than any flood before or since.

You can enjoy a lawn like this!

A few hours spent outdoors this week will condition your lawn for spring. The dividends will be beauty and endurance all year long. The Lawn Check List below will help YOU decide what YOUR lawn needs. Read it over. Then pay us a visit at SNIPES NURSERY, and let our professional staff get you started right.

LAWN CHECK LIST

☐ Fertilize early with a good lawn food. This gives the good grasses the jump on hot weather weeds and crowds out crabgrass. WE RECOMMEND "Uniform" 10-6-4. Contains 75% organic nitrogen. Releases nutrients slowly. Lasts through summer. Apply early spring, fall. 50 lb. bag covers 5000 sq. ft. . . . $4.75 to cover 5000 sq. ft.

☐ Apply pre-emergent crabgrass killer on established turf before soil warms up. If crabgrass was troublesome last year, it will be again unless you do something about it. WE RECOMMEND Lebanon's timesaving "Three-in-One." Each bag does three jobs: 1) Dacthal to kill crabgrass seedlings. 2) Uniform 10-6-4 fertilizer. 3) DDT to kill grubs. $9.95 to cover 3000 sq. ft.

☐ Sow a good grade of grass seed, predominantly blue grass, to thicken up turf. Don't plant "nurse crops" or rye grass which only rob the soil of nutrients the good grasses need. WE RECOMMEND Green Valley Grass Seed — new this year. Specialy formulated by Bucks County nurserymen to meet the requirements of Bucks County lawns. "Gold Ribbon" — for the show lawn. 5 lb. $6.95. "Country Club" — very fine, all around turf maker. 5 lb. $5.49. "Tuff Turf" — for play and other hard-wear areas. 5 lb. $4.00.

☐ Apply limestone at the rate of 50 lb. per 1000 sq. ft. — the recommended rate, although it will seem heavy to a novice. Lawns in Bucks County need liming about every three years. WE RECOMMEND Warner Pulverized Limestone — graded carefully for quick action on your lawn. Won't gum up spreader. 50 & 80 lb. bags.
